DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 to 5, 7, 8 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Southwick.

In Figures 5, 9 to 11 and 16 transverse wires are arranged at preparation position D9 and thrust along sliding surfaces defined by guides D1, D5 by rotary blades D10 to pick-up position in notch D30 from where they are engaged by jaws J14 and moved to the attachment position. See page 4, column 1, lines 5 to 9 and column 2, lines 6 to 12. Latch D7 at receiving head D9 is a stop or movable jaw, as required by Claims 3 and 5. Jaws J14 slide in guideways in frame J upon actuation by shaft A.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 14 to 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Southwick.

The elements of the Southwick device are driven in timed relation by linkages and cams associated with driven shaft A, and appear to be entirely capable of operating in the timed relation recited in these claims. To time the movements of the transverse wire feeding rolls and transfer jaws in an optimum manner in relation to the movement of the thrust finger D10, as seen in dotted lines in Figures 9 to 11, would be an obvious mechanical expedient to one having ordinary skill in the art in order to minimize the cycle time of the machine.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 11 to 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

No clear antecedent basis is found for "said jaws" and "said housing seating" in Claims 11 and 12 or "said rotary means" and "said movable jaw" in Claim 13.

Conclusion

7. Claims 6, 9 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
